FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS.

DAILY PROCEEDINGS OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE.

United States Marshals and Deputies—Yorktown Celebration—Withdrawal of Legal-Tenders.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 22.—The Committee on Appropriations took up this morning the deficiency appropriation bill for the pay of United States Marshals and Deputies, and after a prolonged discussion they agreed upon and ordered the Chairman to report the following bill:

Be it enacted, etc., That the sum of six hundred thousand dollars is hereby appropriated for payment, during the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1880, of the fees of United States Marshals and their general deputies, but no part of the money hereby appropriated is appropriated to pay any compensation, fees or expenses of the Marshals or Deputy Marshals for services rendered in connection with registration or elections, under any of the provisions of title 26 of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

Mr. Sparks, of Illinois, Chairman of the committee on Military Affairs, reported a back bill for the relief of General Fitzjohn Porter, accompanied by a majority report thereon.

Mr. McCook, of New York, presented a minority report. Both reports were ordered to be printed, and the bill was made the special order for the 13th of February.

Mr. McMahon, from the committee on Appropriations, reported a bill for the payment of the fees of marshals and deputy marshals for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1880. Printed and recommitted.

At 12:50 the House resumed consideration, in the morning hour, of a bill relative to the National Bank reserves, and was addressed by Lounsbury, of New York, in favor of repealing the Statutes and giving the United States notes a legal-tender quality.

Mr. McMahon, (Ohio), from the appropriations committe reported a bill making the appropriation for the payment of fees of marshals and deputy marshals for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1880; printed and recommitted.

Mr. Dume, (Arkansas), from the committee on public lands reported back the bill for the settlement of titles in Hot Springs, Arkansas; printed and recommitted.

The House then in the morning hour resumed the consideration of the bill relative to National Bank reserves and was addressed by Lounsbury, (N. Y.) in favor of the withdrawal of legal tender quality of United States notes

Townsend (Ill.) followed in opposition to National Banks and to Mr. Chittendens speech of yesterday. Mr. Chittenden questioned the accuracy of some of Mr. Townsend's quotations and deductions from his speech and excited a personal debate followed, which was finally quieted by the speaker. Mr. Townsend continuing, said he was opposed to the bill because it proposed to strengthen National Banks and make them permanent institutions. He was in favor retiring National Bank circulations altogether. Mr. Buckner closed the debate with a speech setting forth the objects of the pending bill. He said he too was opposed to the national banking system but so long as that system was the institution of the country it should be improved. In conclusion he moved the previous question.

Pending the vote on ordering the previous question, the morning hour expired and the bill went over.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the revision of the rules. All general debate on which is to close on to-morrow. After an extended discussion the committee rose and the House adjourned.

SENATE.

The Senate committee on Naval Affairs to-day authorized a favorable report to be made on the nomination of Dr. Phillip S. Wales as Chief of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery and Surgeon-General of the Navy.

House Select Committee on the Yorktown Celebration appointed a sub-committee this morning and instructed them to draft a bill making the appropriation of $100,000 for the erection of a suitable monument at Yorktown.

The Senate took up Senator Bayard's resolution for the withdrawal of the legal tender quality of the United States notes,

Senator Edmunds, from the Judiciary Committee, reported a bill to amend Section 640, Revised Statutes, relating to the removal of suits by corporations from State to Federal courts. It aims generally to put corporations on the same footing in that respect with natural persons. Placed on the calendar.

Senator Beck opposed the resolution, and prefacing his remarks with the statement that he regretted to differ with the Senator from Delaware, and believed the latter was acting for what he thought for the best interests of the country.

But Senator Beck was obliged to differ from that opinion. The general line of Senator Beck's argument was that while he did not favor the original issue of the greenbacks they had been decided Constitutional, and were an essential part of our currency. This was not a favorable time for the withdrawing of them even if they were theoretically correct. The people desired no tampering with the currency. They wanted to let well-enough alone. During the financial legislation of 1878, Senator Bayard had offered substantially this same resolution, and it was then voted down by a large majority. There was a better excuse for its passage then than now. At that time the notes were below par, and we have been at great expense and privation to bring them to par, and have increased the public debt by the sale of bonds for so-called resumption purposes, and accumulated large amounts of coin in the Treasury. Yet, now that the notes are as good as gold, it is proposed to discredit them. There was no reason to suppose the Senate had so radically changed its opinions since 1878.

He showed that the currency was not redundant to other nations France and Belgium for instance, have much more money than we in proportion to the population. He thought that the amount of greenbacks in circulation is smaller than that as shown by the report of the Secretary and Treasury. It was certain that about 10 per cent. of the fractional currency issued had been lost or destroyed and probably the same was the case with the notes. It should also be remembered that the notes in denominations of $1000 and upward were not actually part of the circulating medium. They were no better for this purpose than bonds. This proposed legislation he believed was in the interest of a moneyed class and not in that of the people.

It would give National Banks full control as to the nature and amount of currency. It would be impracticable to present abuses of this power in the issue of money and should be controlled by Congress under the direct notice of the people and the subject to veto on a hasty legislation. He alluded to the fact that many of the obligations of banks had probably been lost and destroyed. Twenty years term of their characters was near its expiration and they sought to avoid the return to the government of all the notes issued to them as provided by law. Thus being enabled to pocket the amount of the aforesaid lost and destroyed notes.

Senator Beck thought our present business activity might be temporary, and caused more by poor crops, wars, and famine abroad than by our own prosperity. If this were so, and a reversion should come to the effect of a withdrawal of the legal-tender power of the greenbacks, it would be disastrous. They would depreciate, and gold would go abroad. The money monopoly sought to demonetize silver, abolish greenbacks, and obtain full control of the currency of the people. It was on par with the tariff monopolies. He showed how hard it had been for the people to get an onerous tax on quinine, and revoked, and how beneficial its repeal had been. He was opposed to all class of legislation against the people and in favor of strong and wealthy corporations.

At 3 o'clock P. M., Senator Coke obtained the floor, but yielded to the motion to go into executive session; and when the doors were reopened the Senate adjourned.

Parnell's Reception—Wabash and Union Pacific R. R.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Cardinal McCloskey declares that the statement cabled from London to the effect that the Pope is indignant at the reception given to Charles S. Parnell by Cardinal McCloskey is absolutely without foundation.

The Tribune says that a syndicate of bankers and persons largely interested in the Wabash and Union Pacific Railroad systems, has purchased 50,000 shares of the Central Pacific stock at 75 per cent., with the option of 50,000 more at 80 per cent.

Street Car Mob.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—A dispatch from Rio Janeiro regarding the riots mentioned on the 3d instant, says: In consequence of the twenty Reis per passenger on the street car traffic, a mob destroyed the cars and tracks of the company, attacked the conductors and stoned and fired at the troops. The latter charged on and dispersed the mob. Three persons were killed and thirty wounded, including some of the soldiers and policemen. Order was finally restored and a tramway traffic was resumed. The government, in replying to the deputation, has refused to remove the impost.

Nominations by the President.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The President sent the following nominations to the Senate to-day: Edward J. Wheat to be United States Marsnal for the middle district of Tennessee. Postmasters: Robert G. Staples, Portsmouth, Va.; Wm. Billings, Victoria, Texas; Miss Lee H. Randle, Oxford, Miss.; Robt. W. Fitzhugh, Natchez, Miss.

Sugar Boiler Explosion.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 21.—Yesterday a sugar boiler at D. R. Carroll's plantation, on the Barratort, exploded, killing Willis Wright (colored), Arthur Porrier, the chief engineer, and a colored man whose name is unknown, and seriously wounding thirteen others, some of whom are not expected to recover. The damage to the sugar house is estimated at $8,000.

Another Secret Band.

HAVANA, Jan. 21.—The Santiago de Cuba police are reported to have discovered an association of negroes called Manigoes, whose statutes oblige its members to kill white persons. The police captured fifty-four alleged members of the society.

The Mississippi Senatorship.

JACKSON, Jan. 21.—The Legislature yesterday balloted for United States Senator with the following result:

Senate—Barksdale 14, Singleton 10, George 11, B. K. Bruce 1, and T. W. Harris 1.

House—Barksdale 34, Singleton 39, Gen. S. M. West 15, George 25, Bruce 3, absent or not voting 4.

The Republicans voted for Bruce, and the Greenbackers for West. There was no choice.

Telegraph Controversy Settled

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—The controversy between the American Union and the Western Union Telegraph Companies in regard to the possession of about 2,000 miles of wire belonging to the Great Western Union Telegraph Company was finally settled yesterday in favor of the former.

Terrible Explosion.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—The Press Association states that it is reported that an explosion has occurred in the Lycett Colliery, near New Castle, and it is stated that seventy to ninety persons were killed.

Sent to the Penitentiary.

PETERSBURG, Virginia, Jan. 21.—Jas. M. Young was to-day sentenced to ten years in the Penitentiary for the murder of George Hinton, his counsel having decided not to ask for a new trial.

Surrendered.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—There is a rumor current on the Stock Exchange this afternoon that the Peruvian and Bolivian forces in the province of Torapaca have been surrendered by the Chilian forces and that negotiations for their surrender are proceeding.

Church Organization and Dedication at Manly.

Correspondence of the News.

MANLY, N. C., Jan. 20.—Manly is a railroad station on the Augusta Air-Line, about 70 miles from Raleigh. It has five stores and a few private residences, and is the shipping point of quite a number of saw mills and turpentine distilleries. There are in the vicinity fifteen of these distilleries and eleven saw mills, and the agent—Capt. W. C. Petty—informed the writer that during the past year 30,000 barrels of naval stores were billed at that depot.

On last Sunday, the 18th instant, a Presbytery, consisting of Revs. A. D. Cohen, of Carthage, W. R. Gawaltney, of Raleigh, and Dr. Pritchard, of Wake Forest College, organized a Baptist church at Manly; and after the election of the Rev. A. D. Cohen as pastor, the new house of worship was dedicated to the Lord with appropriate religious services.

Rev. Mr. Gwaltney read the Scriptures, Rev. Mr. Cohen offered the prayer of dedication, and Dr. Pritchard preached the sermon of the occasion.

The new church is small, but very neat and complete in its appointments, and was dedicated with no debt on it. It is a monument to the liberality and good taste of the few who erected it to the glory of their Master.

The pastor-elect, Mr. Cohen, preached Saturday night and Mr. Gwaltney on Sunday night.

The attendance was large, the preaching was well received, and the whole occasion one of thankfulness and joy.

MORE QUESTIONS FOR THE SUPREME COURT.

Benner and Rafter Deny Taking any Part in the Republican House—a Mixed Muddle.

AUGUSTA, Maine, Jan. 21.—In the Fusion House last night the committee reported in favor of submitting another series of questions to the Supreme Court. A general discussion followed, several members expressing their intention to abide by the decision of the court. Adjourned without action.

BOSTON, Jan. 21.—A special from Augusta says the Fusion House met in Union Hall at 10 a. m. Swan moved to reconsider the vote of yesterday, ordering the committee to submit the question to the Supreme Court, believing it was hasty and ill considered. He thought that this House had had enough of the opinions of the Supreme Court. The court had not agreed to consider any questions and there was no doubt that it would refuse to give the decision if any were submitted and such a step would be a complete surrender to the Republicans. Plaisted followed in the same strain. It was evident from the line of the speeches that the Fusionists have decided to submit no questions, in accordance, it is believed, with the advice of Mr. Gould.

BOSTON, Jan. 21.—An Augusta special says Benner and Rafter this morning denied in the Fusion House that they took part in the business of the Republican House yesterday, as reported. Both said they had not entered the State House since they were refused admission on Monday last.

A SHORT SESSION.

Some Talk of It, but the Necessary Work far Behindhand.

Philadelphia Times.

The old talk about an early adjournment is being revived. Speaker Randall is said to have recently stated to some friends that he thought an adjournment by April 15 would be possible. Senator Thurman has recently said that efforts would be made to adjourn early. Senator Davis, of the Senate appropriation committee, however, doubts the ability of the Democracy to secure an early adjournment, unless the work of Congress progresses more rapidly than it has yet done. But two legislative weeks remain in January. Meanwhile the chairman of the House appropriation committee is still seriously ill and scarcely anything has been done on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, that being held back to await his expected recovery. None of the important appropriation bills have been completed by the House appropriation committee, although the rule requires that they shall be presented to the House within thirty days from the assembling of Congress.

HALIFAX.

WELDON, Jan. 20.—James S. Snow, the former sheriff of this county for many years, is at the point of death.

PERSON.

ROXBORO, Jan. 19.—Between six and seven o'clock last night a fire broke out in the store house occupied by S. P. Satterfield, in which was also kept the postoffice. This was one of a block of four store houses, all wooden buildings, and the flames soon communicated to the other buildings, and in less than two hours the whole block was in ashes. The store house occupied by S. P. Satterfield was the property of C. S. Winstead, and the entire stock of goods on hand and the postoffice effects were consumed. The next store house was the property of W. E. Webb and S. B. Winstead, and was occupied by W. E. Webb as a furniture store. The next two were the property of J. A. Long, one of which was occupied by C. G. Williams & Co. as a drug store, and the other by J. A. & J. S. Long, as general merchants. The goods were removed, in part, from all the houses except that occupied by Satterfield, but a great many in the upper stores and in the basements were consumed, and even the sale rooms could not be entirely relieved before the flames had broken into them.

The dwelling-house of John H. Jones, Esq., now about eighty years of age, was also consumed, also his meat house, and by dint of effort the other houses in the rear of his yard were saved, notwithstanding the wind blew the flames from his dwelling house directly over them. Alston's house on Mr. Jones' lot, in about twenty feet of his dwelling, occupied as a bar room, was badly mutilated to prevent the spreading of the flames.

The loss can hardly fall short of fifteen thousand dollars, covered partly by insurance, but to what extent I am not accurately informed. The origin of the fire was entirely accidental.

There is a remarkable circumstance connected with this fire. For several days previous to its occurrence, Mrs. Jones, the wife of John H. Jones, seemed to have a premonition of it. She said that she felt uneasy, like something dreadful was about to happen, what she could not tell, and insisted on some of Mr. Jones' grandchildren staying with her constantly, especially at night. This circumstance may form a theme for casuists.

Last week we had with us the Gruber family. Mr. Gruber is entirely a prodigy in music, and his entertainments worth attending.

G. D. Satterfield, one of our oldest citizens, and now a retired merchant, is seriously ill with pneumonia.

BUNCOMBE.

ASHEVILLE, Jan. 19.—The weather has been for the week past cool and refreshing, though not what would be called cold. So far, this has been for mildness of weather the most remarkable winter known in Buncombe for many years, with the exception of muddy roads which impedes travel to a certain measure. The winter months has been quite as well suited for the carrying on of all kinds of business as the autumn months usually are.

And this is especially manifest in the improvements that are going on around Asheville.

On Friday night last the town was thrown into considerable excitement from the alarm of the fire-bell. Quite a number of the young and gay of the village had gathered at the Carolina house and were engaging in festivities, and when the alarm was sounded between the hours of 11 and 12, the whole crowd became frantic—men ran to and fro, women screamed and sighed, and to know how hearts beat at the scene, we have but to say that when the light was first discovered it was known that it lay in the direction of the home of many that were there. The whole affair was nothing more than the burning of a plank kiln; loss, about $50.

A telegram was received this morning from Greenville, S. C., stating that a former scapegoat from this place (Asheville) had committed murder there. No particulars, except that the murderer escaped.

An address will be delivered in the court house this evening by O. A. Clough, editor of the New York South, subject: "The South."

The journals of Asheville are having a nice time lately, among themselves, throwing fire balls. They have become quite skilled, both in the construction and arrangement of them.

Asheville is all aglow with tobacco buyers. The sales from the Marshall warehouse on the opening day, we understand, averaged something more than $20 per hundred.

Several manufacturing enterprises are now on foot for Asheville, as we understand. The nearer the railroad approaches the more Asheville is thought of as a manufacturing center.

AN EXTRAORDINARY WORK.

The Book of Interviews With God by Ellen G. White.

Detroit Free Press.

The local papers have been engaged in furnishing the public with quite extended extracts from the book recently published at the Adventist printing office. This book is headed, "Testimony for the Church, No. 29, by Mrs. Ellen G. White," and is published by the "Seventh Day Adventist Publishing Association, of Battle Creek, Mich., 1880." It is perhaps one of the most bigoted works ever issued. One passage in the book denounces in the most extreme language the membership of other churches. The vision of Sister White, as printed, commences thus:

"On the morning of October 23d, 1879, about 2 o'clock, the Spirit of the Lord rested upon me, and I beheld scenes in the coming judgment. Language fails me in which to give an adequate description of the things which passed before me, and of the effect which they had upon my mind."

She then goes on to relate that she had a personal interview with the Great Jehovah, and that the Almighty mentioned by name several of the members of their faith who were individually responsible for misdemeanors committed, and even mentioned their faults. These she saw on the Ledger of Heaven, of which there were several copies open. After looking over the book-keeping of the Lord, Sister White was led to exclaim:

"Who can be saved? Who will stand justified before God? Whose robes are spotless? Who are faultless in the sight of a pure and holy God?"

"The feeling of security is gone, and in its place is a nameless terror."

The eyes of the countless millions, she relates, are upon the Detty, and all are filled with dread lest they shall be found wanting. One class was registered as cumberers of the ground. With pale and quivering lips they acknowledge that they have been traitors to their holy trust, and, like the fig tree that had been cursed "because they bore no fruit, because they had not put to use the talents intrusted to them," said the Judge, "all will be justified by their faith and judged by their works." This troubled the candidates, all of whom were anxious for eternal life, but the Lord, in the language reported by this favored sister, spoke as follows:

"He that is unjust, let him be unjust still; and he that is filthy, let him be filthy still; and he that is holy let him be holy still." The book then closed and the mantle fell from the person on the throne, revealing the terrible glory of the Son of God. The scene then passed away and I found myself still upon the earth, inexpressibly grateful that the day of God had not yet come, and the precious probationary time was still granted us in which to prepare for eternity. This is the substance of Sister White's vision. The book in which it is contained embraces one hundred and ninety-two pages, and treats of a number of subjects: "Our Publications," Christ's Ambassadors," "Ministers of the Gospel," "Our College," "The Cause in Iowa," "Our Publishing Houses," "Sacredness of Vows," "Wills and Legacies," "Relation of Church Members," "Dishonesty in the Church," "Importance of Self-control," "Unscriptual Marriages," "The Lord's Poor," "The Cause at Battle's Creek," and "Improvement of Talents," being the headings of the various selections. Under the head of "Wills and Legacies," the faithful are enjoined not to forget that they are handling the Lord's money, and when they leave it they are not to transfer the trust to their relatives, who may use it for selfish purposes, but they are to give it to the church, where the Lord will be able to avail Himself of the pecuniary aid thus advanced for the building up of his Kingdom and the spreading of His truths. The faithful are expected to live on two meals a day and both of them to be vegetables; to not indulge in fine clothes, to give one-tenth of their gross receipts to the Lord (through the church) and to believe explicitly in the visions of Sister White.

The book also mentions the names of several of the leading members, and the Lord, through Sister White, criticises these actions and advises them how to act. The people who follow the visionary sister are, as a general thing, honest and conscientious in their dealings, but their faith is too entire for ordinary mortals. The revelation is believed by them to be direct from God himself, and is so treated in the church.

These revelations are sent to each of the elders, with instructions to read them before their congregations, and their being made public is as mortifying as it was unintentional.

The Drummer's Rose-Bud.

Correspondence of the News.

RALEIGH, Jan. 20.—We drummers are not always on the flowing beds of ease; very flowing when we think our couch is all roses, we strike suddenly a thorn that obliterates all the rosy sentimentality and makes us fully aware that we, like other men, are doomed to disappointment. When we have a streak of good treatment, or are made to feel that we are not looked upon as a scourge and common enemy in the business arena, we feel good over it and we like to talk about it. Hence after a very pleasant, short stay in Raleigh we take this method of expressing our sincere gratitude to the town generally for the cordial deference paid to commercial travelers of the North, to the hotel men for their courteous and kindly attention, and last but not least, to the ladies of Raleigh who, by their cheerful and happy faces and their sweet and lovely voices, have made the stay of several miserable drummers very pleasant in your Capital.

TRADE DRUMMER.

How Great Men Die.

Since the death of Speaker Kerr and Senator Morton, of Bright's Disease, it has been noticed and noted that a large number of our public men and leading business men die too early from the same or a similar cause. By using Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, their diseases might be cured, and their valuable lives prolonged. The time is coming when, because of this remedy, no one will die of such diseases as Bright's and Diabetes.

RAILROAD MEETING.

WILMINGTON, COLUMBIA & AUGUSTA RAILROAD.

Reorganization in Baltimore—Election of Officers—$960,000 on Hand—New Bonds.

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 22.—A meeting of the first mortgage bondholders and the holders of the registered certificates of the Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroad Company was held to-day in this city to take steps to reorganize the Road.

The committee appointed at the meeting held November 5th, reported that they had purchased the Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroad in the interests of the first mortgage bondholders. The Report of the committee was adopted, and it was decided that the Road be at once reorganized. The election for officers was then held with the following result: President, R. R. Bridgers; Directors, Messrs. Walters, Shoemaker, (new comer,) Short, Brown, Jenkins, Plant, Cameron and Pratt. The Company will begin operations with nine hundred and sixty thousand dollars capital stock, and bonds will be issued to the amount of one hundred and sixty thousand dollars, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, payable in gold in New York city on the first days of June and December. The plan of the reorganization will give to every holder of two thousand dollars' worth of old bonds, with accompanying coupons and certificates, one thousand dollars in new bonds and six shares of stock.

EDUCATION IN SPAIN.

Provinces Where Not One Person in Five Can Read or Write.

Correspondence London Times.

In the province of Granada, with a population of 404,000 inhabitants only 50,000 can either read or write. That province, in obedience to the law of 1857, ought to have 677 elementary schools. Their actual number does not exceed 499, and for these, as a rule, wretched buildings and incompetent teachers are provided; the children frequenting the schools are about 29,000, and they are often turned out and allowed any number of holidays to enable the municipality to turn a penny by letting the school-houses for the purposes of masked balls and shows or festivities, thus interfering with the proficiency of the rising generation and encouraging idle habits among them. In this matter of popular education, as in all other branches of well being, the northern districts of Spain offer a pleasing contrast to the southern provinces. While in that of Granada, as we have seen, 86 per cent of the population are absolutely illiterate; in that of Alava 30 out of 1000 can read and write, and the proportion is 35 per cent in that of Santander. Even these latter numbers, however, are far from consoling; and it is melancholy to think that in Spain—a country boasting of almost the entire unity of faith, living at peace with her church and boasting so large a number of unattached—i. e., ille clergy—so little should be done for the culture, both intellectual and moral, of the lower classes.

Facts About the Mormons.

Denver Tribune.

The following extracts taken from a letter received by a lady of this city has been placed at the disposal of the Tribune, and are published as being outside evidence tending to corroborate the suspicions of Mormon instigation in the recent Indian outbreak, which this paper has printed in its special dispatches. This letter is dated "Salt Lake City, Utah, November 27th, 1879," and after some personal and private topics, read as follows:

Mrs. —— you believe in the efficacy of prayer—then pray for the women of Utah, for they need your prayers. I have boarded with one bishop who had seven wives and forty-two children; another had four wives, who were presented with four children within forty-eight hours.

The women of Utah deserve more pity than the slaves of the South sixteen years ago. Polygamy is a disgrace to the United States, and they will not abandon it, let the government say and do what it may. They are firm friends of the Indians who they believe will be the instruments in the hands of God for destroying the proud Gentile race. They are building a temple here in Salt Lake at a cost of $10,000,000.

I see the Denver Tribune thinks the Mormons assisted the Indians in their outbreak, and the Gentiles here are of the same opinion, and they will do it again if they get a chance, and yet the Mormons are demanding the admittance of Utah into the Union as a free and independent State. God grant it may never be admitted while polygamy exists is the sincere prayer of the Gentiles who have been in Salt Lake.

The Tunnel Under the Hudson.

American Engineer.

The Hudson river tunnel from Jersey City to New York is now under way, excavation in the tunnel proper having been commenced on the Jersey side. In New York property has been secured for inaugurating the work from that end where a shaft will be sunk at the foot of Morton street to the same depth as that in Jersey City. The work will be carried on night and day simultaneously at both ends. Powerful pumps are constantly in use to keep down the water, which in the shaft in Jersey City flowed very rapidly at a depth of forty feet.

The Jersey City incline to the tunnel proper is 3400 feet in length, the tunnel itself 5400 feet, and the New York city incline 3000 feet long, making a total of about two and a half miles.

The walls of the tunnel are circular in section and built of hard brickwork in hydraulic cement. It will contain two tracks and be lighted with gas.

It must prove of inestimable service to the railroad system and a great boon to the traveling public. The nature of the conditions at present surrounding its inception in the way of construction promises a successful undertaking.

A feature in the excavation for the tunnel is the improved air-lock. This lock is six feet in diameter and fifteen feet long, of boiler iron, with hinged doors at either end, opening inward. It will be inserted horizontally into the opening, where it will be held by a double collar, the first or inside collar being an angle-iron flange, and the outer one of wood, to serve as a bearing against the surrounding earth. It is calculated to resist a pressure of fifty tons, although forty tons is expected to be the maximum in actual practice. The manner of running this lock horizontally is entirely novel. The air lock in its principal features resembles a cylindrical steam boiler, with end doors three by four feet, through which the workmen can pass, and bull's-eyes for the admission of light. The plates are five-sixteenths of an inch in thickness. In the interior are a dozen pipes of various descriptions for the passage of air, mud, gas, water, etc. One of the principal is designed for a mixture of mud and water, which will be blown through by air pressure as the excavation proceeds.

A Weather Talker Who Got Left.

Detroit Free Press.

There is one Detroiter who will never refer to the state of the weather again as long as he lives. The condition of the weather has been a hobby of his for years, and he has fairly reveled in the rains and fogs which have been ours since the New Year. On meeting an acquaintance he has invariably said:

"Ever see such a winter before? Curious country, this. Who'd have looked for spring in January? Have you any idea it will change? This mud is killing business, but we can't help it. Ever know of such a succession of fogs?"

Yesterday morning he was coming up town by the Fort street line. His umbrella fell from his hand as he entered the car. A stranger picked it up, moved along, and the citizen sat down beside him and said:

"Thankee. Terrible weather, isn't? Ever see such weather before? We'll all be sick unless there's a change. Can you account for this mild weather at this season?"

"I'd like to speak a few words to you in private," replied the stranger in a guarded voice. "Please get off the car with me."

The two got off together, the citizen greatly puzzled, and when they reached the walk the stranger continued:

"You remarked that this was terrible weather. I quite agree with you. You seem to be a well educated and very observing man, and I am glad to have met you. I hadn't taken any notice at all of the weather until you spoke, but I quite agree with you—quite."

The citizen cleared his throat, but did not reply, and presently the man went on:

"You asked me if I had ever seen such weather before. I am satisfied that I have at some time in my life, but I cannot just now recall the date. Let's see, let's see. Was it in 1857? No. Let's see. Well, I cannot recall it now, but on reaching home I will look up all my old diaries. If I can do anything to oblige you, I shall be only too glad."

They walked a block in silence, the citizen amazed and astounded, and then the stranger suddenly said:

"You said we would all be sick unless there was a change. That remark shows your interest in your fellow men. I quite agree with you—quite. Yes, we shall be ill, and many of us never recover. I hope you are prepared to dye."

The citizen now began to get mad and after hoofing it for another long block, he growled:

"What did you want to say to me in private?"

"You asked me," replied the other, as he gestured with his clenched hand, "if I could account for this mild weather at this season of the year? Yes, sir; I can, but I don't want to give it away to all in the car. My theory regarding this warm spell can be explained in just two hours, and I'll go to your office and do it."

"No, you won't," was the blunt answer.

"But I will! When I set out to oblige a man I'm willing to spare four hours if necessary."

The citizen crossed the street hoping to shake the man off, but he also crossed and went on:

"Having been appealed to by you to explain the cause of this mild—"

"See here!" said the other as he halted, "I don't want any more of you!"

"But you asked me to explain,"

"I didn't!"

"You are a liar—you did!"

"What!"

"Don't bristle up to me with any of your whats!" warned the stranger, "or I'll knock your nose off! I never allow anybody to trifle with me! We will either go to your office and devote two hours to an explanation of my theory, or I'll lick you for asking me useless questions and taking up my valuable time!"

The citizen turned pale, looked all around and then made a rush into the nearest house. The stranger waited around a while and then started off with the remark:

"Never you mind, sir! I'll hunt this whole city over but I'll find your office! No man can get me all worked up on a mild spell of weather and then snub me like a heathen!"

Exaggeration in Figures.

As a fair example of the curiosity of statistics, says Spofford, the congressional librarian, "take the army of Xerxes when it crossed the Hellespont to invade Greece, Herodotus gives it as 1,700,000 foot, 100,000 horse, and 517,000 naval forces—total, 2,317,000; and adds that this was swollen by the attendants to 5,200,000; and all this to invade a country which in no age known to history, contained over 1,500,000 inhabitants. Ano her favorite myth of historians is the story of that famous Alexandrian library of 700,000 volumes, burned by Caliph Ormar, A.D. 640, with a rhetorical dilemma in his mouth. Unfortunately for this highly dramatic tale, no two writers are agreed as to the circumstances, except as to the single fact that there is a library at Alexandria, and that it ceased to exist in the seventh century. To ask a modern inquirer to believe that 700,000 books were gathered in one body 800 years before the invention of printing, while the largest library in the world, four years after the multiplication of books by printing began, contained less than 200,000 volumes, is too great a stretch of credulity. Even in reporting the size of modern libraries, exaggeration holds sway. The library of George IV., inherited by that graceless ignoramus from a book-collecting father, and presented to the British nation with ostentatious liberality only after he had failed to sell it to Russia, was said in the publications of the time to contain about 120,000 volumes. But an actual enumeration when the books were lodged in the British Museum, where they have ever since remained, showed that there were only 65,250 volumes, being little more than half the reported number. Many libraries, public and private, are equally over-estimated. It is so much easier to guess than to count, and the stern test of arithmetic is too seldom applied, notwithstanding the fact that 100,000 volumes can easily be counted in a day by two or three persons, and so on in the same proportion. Here, as in the statistics of population, the same proverb holds good—that the unknown is always the magnificent, and on the surface of the globe we inhabit the unexplored country is always the most marvelous since the world began.

Secretary Schurz and the Utes.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Secretary Schurz said to-day, "If a peaceful settlement can be made with the Utes, there is no one in this department that desires to deprive them of their reservation without allowing them a most liberal compensation. It is thought by some of the members of the Ute delegation now in this city that a good many of the Indians will be willing to settle down upon agricultural lands on their present reservation and yield the balance of the land to the Government, and that those who will not do this will go peaceably to the Uintah Reservation."

A delegation of Piute Indians from Humboldt Valley, Nev., are here for the purpose of conferring with the authorities concerning the interests of their tribe.

IRELAND'S WOES.

CAUSE AND EFFECT OF THE PRESENT GREAT DISTRESS.

The Irish Tenement Farmer—What the Land League Wants—Free Homes and a Free Soil.

Philadelphia Times.

Among the representative Irishmen at present in this city is Mr. Thomas P. O'Connor, formerly editor of the Tipperary Leader, and at present a tenant-farmer at Laffana, Tipperary, who is here on a short visit. Mr. O'Connor has been a practical witness of the terrible distress at present existing in Ireland, and gives a very straightforward and intelligent accout of the troubles there. He is a fine specimen of the Irish yeoman, and his long, gray frieze ulster shows that he patronizes home industries. In the course of a conversation yesterday, he said:

THE CAUSE OF IRISH DISTRESS.

"The whole cause of the present distress in Ireland arises from the feudalism or landlordism with which the country is cursed and the failure of the crops, caused by a suggestion of adverse seasons and poor harvests. But there is another indirect cause, which as yet has only been noticed by a few persons at home. That is the ruinous character of American competion with England, both in regard to agricultural products and manufactured goods. This has depreciated the value of English labor and has incapacitated the English working classes from purchasing Irish farm products, such as butter, cheese, etc., in this way cutting off Ireland's best customers. I wish to say here that the value of skilled labor in England has been reduced by American labor-saving machinery fully 60 per cent. A vast number of artisans have been out of employment for many months on that account. All the farming implements used in England, Ireland and Scotland have been imported from America. But to return to the subject we are speaking of. The distress in Ireland is very great—in fact, almost beyond comprehension, particularly on the sea coast. In some portions of Connaught and the Southern part of Munster it is terrible.

"Up to the time Mr. Parnell announced that he would visit this country the Government of England did nothing to alleviate the suffering of the Irish peasantry, and, in fact, refused to do anything. They have since consented to give a portion of the church disendowment fund as a loan to the landlords. This will be an alien on their estates, which will be pledged as security for the loan. It is intended by the government that this money shall be expended in improvements to land by perfecting the drainage system and erecting farm buildings, thus giving temporary employment to the people. There are few of the landlords in a position, even if willing, to avail themselves of this offer, as their esates are so encumbered already that if sold they would not realize the amount of the encumbrances upon them. During the past twelve months the value of land in Ireland has depreciated thirty-five per cent, and consequently few of the landlords can or will accept the offer. The proposition of the government seems to me to be insincere, hypocritical and delusive. What confirms me in this is that the offer was not made until Mr. Parnell had resolved to appeal to the justice and generosity of the American people. It is true that the Duchess of Marlborough has established a fund for relief, but it is put in such a way that no one could apply for relief without degradation. Mr. Parnell has been gratified by his success in this country, which has far exceeded his most sanguine expectations. I judge that the total amount collected so far would reach nearly $15,000. This will all be distributed through the Irish Land League as soon as it is sent to the other side.

The Baker-Gorman Marriage.

At the residence of the bride's parents on yesterday morning, 21st inst. at 7:30 o'clock, Miss Florence B. Gorman, of this city, was united in marriage to Mr. James R. Baker, of Suffolk, Va., the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Dr. Atkinson. Immediately after the completion of the ceremony the happy pair bid adieu to their friends and boarded the 8:30 northern bound train. The following were the attendants: Mr. Maxwell J. Gorman and Miss Kate E. Harding, Mr. James R. Tyler and Miss Maggie Stark; Mr. Seymour W. Whiting and Miss Effie Fentress.

The bridegroom elect is one of the leading and most popular merchants of Suffolk, and has the congratulations of his many friends upon this happy selection of a life partner; while the bride, who is pretty, is beloved by her friends and acquaintances as one possessing the good qualties which compel love should be esteemed. The best wishes of all go with her to her new home.

A reception was given Tuesday night in honor of the approaching nuptials of Miss Florence, who graced the occasion in a fashionable garnet silk. The bridegroom, the bridesmaids and the attendants of the bridegroom, with a few of the especial friends of the family, were present. At 10 o'clock the company repaired to the dinning room, where a well-filled table awaited them and a luxurious supper was served. At a late hour the guests retired and the entertainment ended. Both the contracting parties were the recipients of many handsome presents.

The South American War.

N. Y. Herald.

The plan of the campaign as now undertaken leaves Arica out entirely, and the next point of attack will be Callao. As soon as the repairs of the Huascar are completed the blockade of that port will be established and some 15,000 men landed. There is every reason to suspect that the Bolivians will be bribed by the session of Arica to betray their ally, and Peru, without a fleet or an army, has no means of defense. The Chilians have been long preparing for their advance, but their preparations are complete now and their soldiers and sailors thoroughly armed and disciplined.

I witnessed the review of the Esmeralda regiment at its landing here, and both officers and men were soldiers of which any country might be proud. The captured Pilcomayo passed through here on her way south this week. She has been so badly burned as to necessitate extensive repairs. The brave Union has again saved herself by her heels, and is once more in Callao. Every time she goes to sea her consort is captured. It were better to keep her in port or provide a new captain.

Unless the Chilians meet with some unforeseen reverse the war cannot last beyond April 1st, and may end any day by the collapse of Peru.

The people may talk about humbugs and patent medicines as much as they please, but we stick to the plain fact that Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will cure a cough quicker than any physician's prescriptions.

DAILY NEWS

THURSDAY, JANUARY 22, 1880.

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

ACCORDING to the Cabul correspondent of the London Times, there is high authority for the opinion that the recently suppressed uprising of the Afghans was the strongest combination ever made by them. It was their supreme effort. Having failed it is not likely to recur, and the assertion of British authority in the affairs of Afghanistan will be gradually accepted without resistance.

THE Washington Sunday Herald of the 18th contains "Gath's Letter," wherein allusion is made to the late Henry Carter, alias Frank Leslie. If "Gath" keeps on he will soon be able to dispute with Eli Perkins the claim to the championship of being the biggest liar on the face of the globe. The late Frank Leslie never published The Last Sensation, which title was soon changed to The Day's Doings—but it was his son, a boy of nineteen at the time, the same one who is now striving to break the old man's will. And the writer cordially hopes that young Frank Leslie will break his neck before the will is broken.

A RATHER peculiar state of affairs has just been unearthed in Chicago. In 1876, Mrs. Susannah Underbill, with her aged husband, moved to the little suburb of Arlington Heights. From that time articles of value were missed by the neighbors, but they refrained from making any complaint, as they explain, "out of respect for her husband, until after his death," which occurred in January, 1879. Then a search was instituted, the property found and the woman confessed to the stealing. Measures were taken to indict her, but the witnesses against her were indicted for conspiracy against her. Charges were then made and sustained that the death of her husband had resulted from her brutality. The witness to this charge were also indicted, at her instigation, for conspiring to injure her. Every effort to bring her to justice resulted in the confusion of her enemies until she had most of the town under bail. Thereupon the unfortunates wrote a letter to a Chicago paper, outlining the difficulties at Arlington Heights and praying some relief. This brought the District Attorney to his feet. The indictments were quashed and proceedings are now instituted against the woman. Verily, are newspapers better mediums of justice than grand juries.

THE NEW SYSTEM OF SIGNALING AT SEA.

All the maritime nations, including the United States, have agreed to adopt and cause to be put in force the new system of ocean and river signaling and rules of road at sea which have just been promulgated in England by an order in council:

"Besides the usual colored lights a steamer discerning another steamer or sailing vessel in sight has to sound with the steam whistle or fog horn a short blast, which will mean 'I am directing my course to starboard;' two short blasts will signify 'I am directiug my course to port,' and three short blasts 'I am going full speed astern.' In fog, mist, or falling snow the signals are to be repeated every two minutes, a prolonged blast indicating that the vessel is under way; an ordinary blast that the vessel from which it proceeds is on the starboard tack; two blasts in succession, "I am on the port tack,"and three blasts in succession,the wind abaft the beam. A vessel in a fog, not under way, has to ring the bell every two minutes. Concurrent with the foregoing are ocean signals."

The Thames conservancy are also issuing rules of road, which are to take effect on British and foreign ships entering the river Thames. Heretofore many collisions have occurred from misconceptions and inadequate signaling, and also from want of uniformity among different nations in respect to the rules of the road. The general order now agreed upon promises to do much toward averting disasters, which, from the great increase in the commercial steam marine of late years, have only become too frequent.

Sherman in Hot Water.

Philadelphia Times.

The hard and bitter controversy between General Boynton, of the Cincinnati Gazette, and General Sherman is about to culminate in a libel suit, brought by the former against the latter. Boynton greatly angered Sherman a few weeks ago by denying the accuracy of some of the statements in his "Memoirs," especially that as to who was the originator of the plan of the march to the sea. Boynton giving the credit to Grant. Lately Grant has come to Boynton's aid in his conversations with John Russell Young and Sherman's anger is revived. He has permitted himself to be interviewed by the correspondents of the Cleveland Leader and has charged Boynton of being capable of any wickedness for money, saying that he would slander his own mother for a thousand dollars. Boynton publishes a card to-day in which he announces that he will give the General of the army an opportunity to prove his charges in a libel suit.

The Condition of the Empress of Russia.

New York Times.

The Empress of Russia has telegraphed the Czar from Cannes that she wishes to return to St. Petersburg to die there, having first reconciled her husband and son, and established peace in that divided family. The Empress says the father suspects his son of conniving at Nihilist plots, while the son accuses the father of dragging the Russian Imperial family down to ruin. Emperor's mistress poisons his mind with suspicions against his son. The Czarewitch and Czarevena are virtually imprisoned in the palace. His uncle, the Grand Duke Constantine, believes his own life endangered, he having offended the favorite.

Prince Orloff's journey to Cannes is in obedience to the Empress' summons. She wishes to confide to him a message for the Czar which she dare not telegraph. Prince Orloff has been for the past two days unable to approach the Empress, whose sufferings are rendered tolerable only by sub-cutaneous injections, and who is kept alive by artificial atmosphere pumped into her lungs. Nevertheless she ordered the Greek Christmas and New Year's Day to be observed by the children. Midnight and morning jubilant masses were celebrated at the villa by the retinue of priests. The Duchess of Edinburg gives parties, but devotes herself to her mother. The Duke quitted Cannes. The Duchess telegraphed her brother: "Come to take leave of mother.

The Race for the Presidency.

The regular Albany correspondent of the Tribune has made a careful canvass of the Republican members of the New York Senate and Assembly, in order to ascertain each man's individual choice among the candidates for the Presidency. The result of this inquiry is given below. Interviews were had with twenty-four out of twenty-five Republican Senators, and with eighty out of ninety-one Republican Assemblymen. Eleven Senators and fifteen Assemblymen were non committed. Of the rest a large proportion have decided preferences which they do not hesitate to express. Grant leads largely; but it is noticeable that those who are against him with those non-committal, are in a majority. The result of this inquiry was as follows:

New Uses for the Telephone.

The service of a citation of the Probate Court can be made by telephones in St. Louis. In a case decided last week the sheriff testified that he read the citation to two of the four parties in action through the telephone, and took from each of them an acknowledgement of service. He did not know the parties by their voice, and made the return on the faith given to the responses of those who represented themselves, in answer to his interrogatories, to be the persons mentioned in the citation. The court deemed it reasonable to presume that if they had had no notice, or if any one else had answered the officer's inquiry in their name, they would have proved the fact on the trial. The return of the officer was accordingly taken to be literally true.

The Remedy.

We print with pleasure, the following additional testimonial to the many already publishd in reference to Mrs. Person's Celebrated Scrofula Remedy and Tonic Bitters.

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 15th, 1880.

MRS. JOE PERSON:—Franklin, N. C.:—Dear Madam:—We have been selling your Scrofula Remedy for some time, and it has proved to be a very efficient remedy in the cure of diseases for which it is recommended, and gives better satisfaction than any other medicine that we sell for the cure of Scrofulous affections. We are of the opinion that if the Remedy was advertised and pushed like the most of proprietary preparations, the demand would be so great, that you would soon have to put up a large Labratory, and manufacture it on a large scale, to supply the demand. Wishing you a happy New Year, and abundant success in introducing your medicine, we are

Yours very respectfully,
PESCUD, LEE & Co.

The medicine can be obtained in Raleigh from Wm. Simpson, F. H. Heartt and Pescud, Lee & Co. Persons desiring to see testimonials of cures, can obtain circulars by application to them or Mrs. Person.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

Rev. Sylvanus Cobb thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman:—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge. In our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button. And during the process of teething, its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say that they would not be without it from birth of the child till it had finished with the teething siege, on any consideration whatever. Sold by all druggist, 25 cents a bottle.

Why Will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies, such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles when an immediate relief can be so readily attained. Boschee's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Cough, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Boschee's famous German prescription, ane is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced there has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of a failure to do its work in any case. Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced.

In addition to what is furnished by the Associated Press and by the local reporters of The Sun, no expense is spared to keep its special correspondence, that from Europe as well as from the Pacific coast, and from its Washington Bureau abreast of the times, and to supplement it, as occasion may require, at every other point to which the current of events give prominence.

The Financial and Commercial Reports of The Sun contain at all times full and trustworthy accounts of all movements and operations in the leading markets, as well as that of Baltimore, with special telegraph service from New York of the latest stock and other transactions; while its reports of the ruling prices of breadstuffs, provisions, and other leading articles of trade and commerce, will embrace the latest intelligence, both at home and abroad, of each day's doings, up to the hour of going to press.

VEST POCKET CURE

25 DYSPEPSIA 25

CLERGY & DOCTORS TESTE

Rev. Dr. Mangum, Prof. Univ. of N. C. I concur with Bishop Doggett in his estimate of the Vest Pocket Cure.

Rev. Drs. Jeter, Broaddus, Dickinson, (Bap.) It is indorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and approval of the preparation by well-known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapeutical agent.—Editors Religious Herald, Va.

Chaplain Randolph Macon College, Va. Many cases of Dyspepsia within my knowledge have been cured by it. Cramps, Colics Headaches and all sorts of pains from indigestion yield promptly to it. The cures of this sort are innumerable.

Rev. R. L. Dabney, LL. D., Col. Va. It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Faculty and the people. It is excellent for indigestion and flatulent colic, sedative, soporific, tonic, slightly aperient without nausea.

Rev. B. F. Woodward, P. E., Va. Cent. About twelve years I suffered from Dyspepsia. Failing in with this remedy, I gave it a fair trial. After its use I could eat anything with impunity. I am sure I am indebted to this medicine for what of health and physical comfort I have had for the last sixteen years. I have known many since to be relieved by its use.

Rev. Robert W. Watts, A. M., Va. I have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for a Dyspepsia Colic, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without hurt. I have recommended it to other sufferers with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew. For prostration from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable.

J. D. Eggleston, M. D., Va. It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively used than any single article in the whole list of medicines, so far as I observed in my practice, for all the complaints in families from indigestion I use it and recommend it.

Editor Richmond Christian Advocate. This remedy is of tried virtue. I have seen Dyspepsia cured completely by it. It seems to be an antidote to our "National Disease." The ingredients are not kept by the apothecaries, and have been difficult to get.

Price 25 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists. In Raleigh, by Pescud, Lee & Co., and Williams & Haywood.

Fear Not The Morrow.

Tell me not with mournful accent,
That thy heart is sore with grief;
That thy daily life's a burden;
That thou canst not find relief;

That the morrow's without promise,
And to-day is dark and drear;
That the morning is beclouded
With some undefin-ed fear.

Rather, let thy voice be cheery;
Let thy pulses throb with mirth;
Let thy daily life be filled with
Deeds of kindness and of worth.

For the morrow, trust the Power
That has kept the stars in place,
Since the morn of Time's beginning,
In the region vast of Space.

Think not the sun is darkness;
That the clouds are filled with hate;
That the thunder's roar is threatning
Thee will cruel, evil fate.

Fear not longer for the morrow;
Let thy brow be bright with hope;
Trust the God that yet has kept thee,
And no more in darkness grope.

Ope thine eyes, and see the brightness
That is all around thee spread;
Ope thine heart, and know the Goodness
That yet gives thee daily bread.

THEO. B. CONOVER.

Prejudice.

The prejudice of many in favor of the old methods of treatment is vanishing before the accumulated evidence in favor of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS,

The Scourge of Mankind. Old Methods of Treatment and Remedies a Failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching, cleansing, and purifying agent of this country. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Canker, those terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life, filling the body with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, it speedily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm, Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

ECZEMA ON THE SCALP.

BREAST AND LIMBS CURED.

MESSRS WEEKS & POTTER: Gualemen—I cannot refrain from ad ing my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago believing they did me no good. The CUTICURA has stopped this unsatisfactory expense—even if it were necessary and I had the courage any longer to follow their advice—and brought the long-looked-for cure and happiness.

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs —, Dr. — of —, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April 1st last, I began the use of CUTICURA, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean scalp for 15 years until the use of CUTICURA entirely healed it and left it clear and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely healed. I believe myself completely cured. I shall continue the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the afflicted to use these wonderful remedies.

Yours, etc.,
STEPHEN CROWELL.

NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 30, 1878.

A RUNNING SORE

CURED IN ONE WEEK.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER:—Some three or four weeks ago I ordered a box of CUTICURA for a bad case of Salt Rheum. The back of one of my wife's hands was a running sore. In one week from the day it arrived her hand was well and has remained so up to to-day. E. P. DAGGETT.

MILFORD, ME., June 10, 1878.

A Rare Chance for Investment.

Wishing to give my whole attention to the lumber trade, in which I am about to engage on a larger scale than ever before, I offer for sale on terms to suit the times the following valuable property in Cary:

I.

MY PLUG TOBACCO FACTORY, in a BRICK building 50x80 feet, 3 stories high, the lower story being two large storerooms. The Tobacco Machinery is new and has a capacity of manufacturing 1,000 lbs. per day. The factory has been worked a year, and a good beginning for a trade has been made. The building and the machinery will be sold together, or separately to suit purchasers.

II.

GRAIN MILLS,

in a 3 story brick building, 28x40 feet. Two Wheat Mills and one Corn Mill, new and complete with a capacity for grinding 100 bushels of wheat and 100 bushels of corn a day, and can compete in quality of flour with any mills in the State. The mills have had a very large local patronage during the past year. They are driven by a 60 HORSE POWER STEAM ENGINE, improved, of the make of Talbott & Sons, Richmond.

Attached to the engine is also a 60 Saw COTTON GIN and power press, at a safe distance (about 100 feet) in a different lot. The engine has a brick smoke-stack 60 feet high, making the danger from fire the least possible and the rate of insurance very low.

III.

Several well built and handsome residences, with lots and gardens of about 1 acre to each dwelling. They are wooden buildings, 2 stories high, with from 5 to 7 rooms each, situated in desirable locations in the village.

Besides these, 4 one acre lots, with cottage buildings of 2 rooms.

Dr. Mendelsohn's Lecture.

The NEWS, owing to a misunderstanding respecting a reporter, failed to notice on yesterday the interesting and edifying lecture of this distinguished Rabbi at Tucker Hall on Tuesday evening. All who heard the lecture speak of it in the highest terms.

Buffalo Bill.

In speaking of the performance of this great actor the Terre Haute Express has this to say of him:

"As it always is when Buffalo Bill pays us a visit the Opera House was as full as a box of sardines last evening. The play was May Cody, which was produced here one year ago. It deals with the Mormon Danties and the Mountain Meadow massacre, and the frontier generally. Mr. Cody has gained much in ease of manner and grace of action, and he is now able to present the ideal frontier hero in a manner which makes him a formidable rival of any actor. In his exhibition of markmanship, Mr. Cody displayed a degree of skill rarely ever equaled. At a distance of ten paces, with a potato for a target, he did not miss a single shot out of a dozen or more. He holds his gun in all sorts of positions, with the same unvarying accuracy of aim. He also gave an exhibition of the use of a "bull whacker's" whip, an implement of torture, made of three feet of handle and twenty feet of lash. Mr. Charles Wilson as Darby McCune, created hurricanes of mirth. Mr. Wilson gives a very faithful picture of Irish character.

The four Indian chiefs accompanying the troupe gave an exhibition of Indian dancing, which was as ludicrous as it was no doubt, true to nature.

A very clever performer is the donkey, ridden by Darby McCune, and he should have more consideration than is bestowed upon him by the management. He had no place in the programme and consequently we are unable to give his name. Altogether the entertainment given by this company is one which affords rare enjoyment. To the boys the privilege of seeing Buffalo Bill in person is a great boon. To the children of larger growth there is much that will interest and please in the text and action of the drama.

A Hungry Man.

Chicago Tribune.

Last Saturday afternoon a tall, powerfully built man, with sharp features and grayish hair, was walking up one of our prominent business streets, which was filled with people, and, when in front of a market, stopped suddenly, seized a dressed chicken and began to eat it with the ferocity of a hungry wild beast. The blood of the fowl ran down his face as he tore the flesh from the bones, and he stopped only when he had consumed it all. He was totally oblivious to the wondering crowd. He was arrested and taken to Police Headquarters, where he gave his name as James Sullivan, from Chicago, and said he had eaten nothing until he was on the point of starvation. He was evidently half crazed with liquor and hunger, and was given thirty days in jail to straighten him out.

He Understood Addition.

There is a venerable and benevolent Judge in one of the Paris tribunals who, at the moment of passing sentence on a prisoner, consults his assessors on each side of him as to the penalty proper to be inflicted.

"What ought we to give this rascal, brother?" he says, bending over to the assessor on the right.

"I should say three years."

"What is your opinion, brother?" to the assesaor on the left.

"I should give him about four years."

The Judge (with benevolence)—Prisoner, not desiring to sentence you to a long term of imprisonment, as I should have done were I left to myself, I have consulted my learned brothers and shall take their advice. Seven years.

W. F BARR, M. D.,
Abingdon, Va.

I have found no one single remedy to yield such satisfactory results as the "Seven Springs Mass." In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Anamia, Chlorosis, and for Chronic Eczema, I find it invaluable, associated with appropriate topical treatment.

GEO. T. HARRISON, M. D.,
New York City.

From my experience with the "Iron and Alum Mass," I believe it will prove the best medicine we have in use, for chronic diseases.

G. M. D. PATTERSON, M. D.,
Eaglewood, Texas.

For Dyspepsia, Ulcerations of the Throat, Inflammation of the Neck of the Bladder, Leucorrhœa, etc., the "Seven Springs Mass" seems to act with almost specific effect.

E. O. GRIGSBY,
DeView, Ark.

We could extend this list into the thousands with such testimonials from physicians from every State in the Union, but these are sufficient to indicate its application. The reputation of the remedy is too widely known to waste words upon its character. In ordering from druggists always mention Seven Springs Mass. Price $1 per package or six for $5, sent by mail, postpaid.

MACHINERY.

90 ENGINES in 90 DAYS,

Sold by the Celebrated, Reliable and Established House of TALBOTT & SONS.

This proves whether or not these

Great Southern Engines

give satisfaction.

We are now receiving orders from parties that have one and some have two of these celebrated Engines and Boilers; they will have no other at any price, and only ask that they may have another as good as these they have. Talbott & Sons are now furnishing the best Northern markets with their Engines and Boilers, and give the very best satisfaction when tested with the best made Northern Engines.

Look at the cost of repairs of this Engine and Boiler, after run by inexperienced men. I will name a few who have run them constantly under the severest test. One party has a 20 horse power Engine and Boiler run for six years, has paid fifteen dollars for repairs: another a 25 horse power Engine and Boiler—run five years and paid five dollars; another a 15 horse power Engine and Boiler—run four years and paid three and a half dollars, caused by his own carelessness. and unless by unusual carelessness these Engines and Boilers never need repairing within from five, ten and sometimes fifteen years.

Those in want of

RELIABLE MACHINERY

would do well to correspond with me. I will give as LOW PRICE and REASONABLE TERMS as any Reliable Manufacturer.

THE NEW FRYER.

This useful invention meets a long-felt need for a more convenient method of removing Oysters, Potatoes, and other fried food, with greater quickness, and all at once, from the boiling fat in which they have been cooked, and allowing the fat to drain from them while they remain over the fire; thereby getting rid more certainly of the superfluous grease, the objection so often made of the unhealthiness of food cooked in the ordinary frying-pan is done away with.

By detaching the supporter, you have for omelettes and other things for which a drainer is not required, a deeper and better quality of frying-pan than has heretofore been made.
